For students who withdraw after the first four weeks but before or at the mid-point of the course, EF may retain a prorated amount of tuition. EF may retain any actual housing costs incurred and a maximum total of $600 for non-refundable charges, including the housing administration fee.

For students who withdraw after the mid-point of the course, EF may retain all of the tuition and student services charges for the course. EF may retain a maximum total of $600 for non-refundable charges, including the housing administration fee. Prorated refunds will be calculated on a weekly basis. When determining the number of weeks, EF will consider a partial week the same as if a whole week were completed, provided the student was present at least one day during the scheduled week.

Charges Other Than Tuition: Included in the course fee is a $400.00 housing administration fee, which is non-refundable. All extra costs, such as books, supplies, equipment, laboratory fees, rentals and any similar charges not included in the tuition must be clearly stated in the enrollment/application documents. Such charges (to a maximum of $100.00 for US destinations) are not subject to the refund computation but are limited to those materials that are distributed and attributable to the portion of the program in which the student is enrolled. Students are bound by the terms as defined in any student housing agreements.

My EF web service and iLab lessons

All EF students receive an online account for My EF. Any correspondence, photos and other media used on My EF will be considered private and EF will not accept any responsibility for such correspondence and media. Parent/s or legal guardian/s of students under the age of majority traveling with EF give their consent for the student to use the My EF web service.
